Our Policies

Experis' policies are established by our Board of Directors, based on advice from HR professionals, industry best practice and legal advice. We review our policies on a regular basis, and as needed, to adapt to changes.

As a company we have the following relevant policies in place:

- Modern Slavery and Human Trafficking Policy sets out our zero-tolerance approach to modern slavery and our commitment to acting ethically and with integrity in all our business dealings and relationships and to implementing and enforcing effective systems and controls to ensure modern slavery is not taking place anywhere in our own business or in any of our supply chains and guidance to immediate action if modern slavery is suspected
- Ethical Purchasing Policy stipulates the conditions under which the Company will conduct its business in respect of the procurement of all externally supplied goods and services and requires our supply chain to provide positive assurance towards, including but not limited to, zero tolerance on human trafficking and use of any form of forced or compulsory labour and freedom of employees.
- Code of Business Conduct and Ethics promotes honest and ethical conduct throughout the Company, as well as provides a mechanism to report unethical conduct via the Ethics Hotline to help preserve our culture of honesty and accountability and is part of our annual Ethics and Compliance Learning Program undertaken by all employees.
- Whistleblowing Policy sets out our position on whistleblowing and encourages the reporting of any legal or regulatory violations or any failure to comply with internal regulations, ethical standards, and legislation.
- Supplier Values & Code of Conduct Policy details our expectation of suppliers to adhere to our ethical and social standards including minimum labour standards and comply with modern slavery legislation.
- Labour Standards Policy applies to all employees and associates and outlines the Company's commitment to upholding ethical labour standards, ensuring the rights of all employees and contractors are respected and protected.
- Environmental, Social and Corporate Governance (ESG) – Working to Change the World is an evolution of our Sustainability Plan and Pillars to encompass broader priorities in line with common metrics around ESG - focusing on those areas most material and of highest impact to those we serve. 'People & Prosperity' is a key theme, championing diversity, equity, inclusion and belonging, whilst improving employability and prosperity for all. Our approach reflects both the World Economic Forum's International Business Council Stakeholder Capitalism Metrics and our focus on prioritising the five UN Sustainable Development Goals where we can deliver the greatest impact.

Our Modern Slavery and Human Trafficking policy provides guidance to employees on the action to be taken should any incidents of this nature be suspected and adherence to all our policies is expected of all employees.

Any employee who breaches our policy on Modern Slavery and Human Trafficking Policy will face disciplinary action, which could result in dismissal for misconduct or gross misconduct. We may terminate our relationship with other individuals and organisations working on our behalf if they do not meet our corporate expectations.

We review our policies and procedures on a regular basis and as legislation may dictate to ensure not only ongoing compliance to our standards but also that our supply chain shares the same principles and commitment to the Modern Slavery Act.

Our Processes for Managing Risk

Our standard practices are designed to protect and promote human rights and fair labour practices throughout the recruitment, selection, and employment of both our employees and the work-seekers we place with our clients. Experis operates within all applicable recruitment legislation.

We take our obligations seriously regarding the provision of temporary workers and have established and audited procedures to ensure that they are not at risk of modern slavery.

During 2024

- all existing employees have completed annual refresher training, as part of our Ethics and Compliance Learning Program, which includes the Modern Slavery Policy.
- our CoRE teams carried out audits of our Experis network. These audits included establishing as an employer, we comply to the Proof of Right To Work rules governed by the Immigration, Asylum and Nationality Act 2006 legislation, undertaking of the right checks at the right time, to establish an individual's entitlement to work. This includes the completion of follow up checks for those employees who have limited permission to be in the UK to ensure we do not employ an individual who is not permitted to work, proof of history/references and qualifications (as required) for all our workers.

- our Payroll Department carried out regular checks on our workers bank details to identify where individuals may be sharing bank accounts, or addresses, as this could be an indication of illegal behaviour.
- all workers continue to have on-line access to their weekly pay records allowing them to view all deductions we legally make from their salaries.

Due Diligence

A commitment to human rights, fair labour practices and ethical business dealings is essential to our principle-based culture.

Experis:

- is a member of the Recruitment and Employment Confederation (REC) and has representation on their Employment Policy Committee.
- ISO 9001 - sets the standard for Experis's quality management systems, which are independently audited on a regular basis to ensure our high standards are maintained.
- is part of the group of organisations' that founded the Modern Work Foundation (formerly SAFERjobs), a non-profit organisation, which started out as a Metropolitan Police fraud forum within Operation Sterling in 2008.
In October 2018, the Modern Work Foundation became a registered Community Interest Company so that it could better protect people in unstable work or those looking for work and has been named by several Government departments as a key intelligence source on labour market issues. Over the years, information provided to their brands has led to enforcement action, including website takedowns and removal of fake job advertisements online.
- is also a partner of JobsAware a not-for-profit organisation, a brand of the Modern Work Foundation that exists to help make the UK labour market safer. Our Head of Compliance is also on the Advisory Board.
Building on the Modern Work Foundation success, JobsAware was launched as the UK's number one platform for protecting worker rights, working closely with BEIS, the Home Office, HMRC, law enforcement, DBS, and other partner organisations.
JobsAware's mission is to protect and advance worker rights in the UK, in three important ways:
  - Ensuring all workers and work-seekers in the UK have access to free help and advice.
  - Working with employers and recruitment businesses to help prevent job scams and labour market abuses.
  - Bringing the voices of workers and businesses to UK Gov, to help inform labour market policy.
- seeks positive assurance, within our UK supply chain, that they agree to comply with the principles of our Supplier Values & Code of Conduct Policy, which forms part of the contract with our supply chain. Where appropriate, we carry out due diligence on prospective suppliers, as well as auditing existing and prospective suppliers about legal and contractual compliance.
- takes a risk-based approach to addressing concerns that may arise from our supply chain. Modern Slavery considerations are included as part of our risk management and supplier selection processes. We also review how we align with our suppliers on this issue. We expect all suppliers to operate in accordance with our Supplier Values & Code of Conduct Policy. We procure that our supply chain disseminates these terms down to their own suppliers and subcontractors.

Training

Our Code of Business Conduct and Ethics provides guidance to all our employees on the conduct of our business according to the highest moral standards. The code and our other ethics policies help to focus our employees on the areas of this type of risk. It offers guidance in recognising and dealing with any ethical issues and provides mechanisms to report unethical conduct without fear of retaliation.

The code provides a compliance hotline for employees to inform (on an anonymous basis) any concerns with activities of the Company or the supply chain.

All policies are published and available to all employees on the Company's intranet and incorporated into our training programs.

All employees are required to complete the mandatory ethics and compliance training and certification annually to build their training and knowledge on the subject.
